Andy Clark is author of the influential Being There: Putting Brain, Body, and World Together Again, and a leading authority on the philosophy of cognitive science and artificial intelligence. In particular, he has been a key developer of the theory of embodied cognition and the extended mind. Clark holds the Chair in Logic and Metaphysics at the University of Edinburgh. He is the author of the best-selling Natural-Born Cyborgs: Minds, Technologies, and the Future of Human Intelligence and Mindware: An Introduction to the Philosophy of Cognitive Science.

February 5th 2007, 7:30 pm
Salomon Center 001, Brown University

20th Anniversary Public Lecture Series
Sponsored by the Bruce M. Bigelow Class of 1955 Lecture Fund and the Department of Cognitive and Linguistic Sciences